Contracts: Cases, Problems, and Materials (American Casebooks) James F. Hogg, Carter G. Bishop
Explores areas of overlap of contract and tort principles, including remedies, misrepresentation, and fraud. The materials on remedies are sufficiently self-contained to allow professors to teach remedies at any point during the course. The materials afford a number of opportunities for the instructor to explore and emphasize issues of contract law theory and various public policy limitations on the concept of freedom of contract. Problems introduce a number of generic business situations.
