ALSO IN BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY Pleasant. When seventeen years of age he accepted a situation in the store of the J. C. Clure Coke Co., at Painters, where he remained for a short time. He resigned his position with the A. C. Chire Coke Company to accept the management of a general merchandise store for J. R. James Cray, of Dunbar, which occupation he followed until Mr. Cray retired from business after which he removed to W. Leisenring where he resided until 1894, where he was employed in the yard. During the great strike he took strong grounds in behalf of the rights of labor and wrote a number of articles to the Pittsburg papers defending the workingmen in their struggle for justice. He was elected chairman of the executive board, District No. 7, of the United Mine Workers of America, and is claimed to have been the youngest man ever to have filled the place, being at the time only twenty years of age. He was a delegate to all the conventions and secretary of the local branch at West Leisenring. He was in the employ of the B. O. R. R. for a short period, after which he accepted a situation as clerk in the Columbia hotel at New Haven, which place he has filled for five years, excepting the time he was a member of Company D, Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment in the Philippine Islands. At the declaration of the Spanish-American war, Mr. Welsh prompted by the spirit of patriotism, enlisted in Company D, Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment, notwithstanding the fact that he was compelled to give up temporarily a lucrative situation. He was sworn in May 12, 1898, sailed with his company and regiment from San Francisco, June 15th, and landed at Canii Dewey, July 21st. He received a slight wound through the right hand at the battle of Malate, P. L., on the night of July 31, 1898, from the effects of which he remained in the hospital for two months.
