Natural Disaster Management in the Asia-Pacific: Policy and Governance (Disaster Risk Reduction)
