George Allen is trying to get out of the criminal life, so he settled down on a farm. What better way to make sure he stayed on the right side of the law than to marry? With no eligible women in Kansas he looked to the classifieds and found his dream. An untouched, unfettered 18 year old girl, who was in the listings. Sara Parrish's family had a crisis and her parents were looking for help. They were willing to give their daughter to a suitor who will pay them a bit of money. George had only seen one girl who was that young listed, the others were widows. He wrote to the family and made an offer he hoped they couldn't refuse. Two months later he still hadn't heard a word back from them. Unsure that his letter was even delivered, he is wondering what to do. Then he had a visit from a man who had his bride for him. Charging George a huge amount of money, the man left George with his new wife. Sara Parrish is nothing, yet everything, he could have expected. George soon found that there is more to life than crime and farming.
