From a team of prestigious American doctors comes a comprehensive, practical approach to combating and preventing cancer. Readers can assess their risk of cancer through a unique screening questionnaire, learn to change their internal environment to prevent cancer, and discover the science that supports the significant roles that emotions and attitudes play in prevention and treatment. The authors offer precise combinations of food, vitamins, herbs, minerals, and supplements to help with:

- * Prevention by lowering your risk of getting cancer
- * Treatment by using the body's natural healing power to stop the growth and spread of disease
- * Coping with fatigue, weight loss, hair loss, and other side effects of chemotherapy and radiation

This invaluable book provides proven methods of natural healing intended to complement conventional cancer treatments. With special recommendations for breast, prostate, lung, skin, and colon cancers, this is one of the most important health books anyone will ever read.
