Mornings and Evenings With God Through the Seasons One Year Bible: Starting and Ending Your Days in Fellowship with HIM: Winter (Transformed Lives Matter Book 1)

Winter is the coldest time of the year. It is when the earth's axis is farthest away from the sun. This can apply symbolically also because winter is often used to characterize the time when we feel like we are farthest away from The Son. It reflects times when we are going through trials and hardships. In the natural world, winter is often when the snow falls, temperatures drop, and much of our earth is covered in snow or ice. Most things do not grow in the winter, but a few like the Chinese plum do. It blossoms and releases a fragrance that can be smelled despite the weather. It has come to represent hope, perseverance, beauty, and purity. These are the very characteristics that I hope you take from each lesson in this season of Mornings and Evenings with God One Year Bible. Our Father loves you, and He desires to meet with you and speak with you during the good times and the bad times. May your moments of fellowship with Him produce the seeds of hope, perseverance, beauty, and purity that you need to be fruitful in fulfilling your purpose.
